CLOSE OF THE SAENGERFEST.

Since last Friday New York has been afforded an excellent opportunity to judge of the social qualities and law-abiding character of the German-American citizen. There have been festivals parades, amusements and excursions Every German resort has been crowded. There has been plenty of fun and frolic, for the Germans are a mirth-loving peo ple. There has been a great consumption of lager beer, for the Germans Rue lager. But everything has been orderly and the streets have been free from row-enjoying such occasions as the feat in family groups. The German takes his wife and children with him when he ceichtates, and this has a humanizing influence. Yesterday at Gravesend Bay the great excursion was rendered doubly enjoyable because the atendance was largely in family parties. This German practice is a good one and is one of the reasons why the licensing of Sunday evening concert gardens finds favor with so many people in New York. The farewell gathering at Ulmer Park was an enjoyable affair. The prizes appear to have been awarded with judgment and discretion. Everybody seemed A patrol wagon service would furnish satisfied, the night ended with spirited and merry dancing, which was kept up until a late hour. Then the company dispersed, the old folks well pleased, the young dancers tired and delighted, the fat, indifferent bables fast asleep, clinched about the Carnegie concern by and the Seventeenth National Saenge

The Indispensable Screen.

Every room that is larger than a mere closet should contain a screen. There is hardly an article of furniture more often required. It may hide a little disorder or shield from draughts, or it may quite make two rooms out of one by its division line. In China painting there is one rule often broken that is necessary to the pleasing result. That is that floral decoration should be proportioned to the size of the article painted.
